Chroma is built to work, and work well, with your existing Windows applications and is a quality replacement for the Windows desktop. Chroma is an open, extensible design, allowing any application developer to add support for a wide variety of actions. To use it, you need a recent version of the Microsoft.NET Framework, and you can download it here: Installation: Chroma is a standalone.EXE Windows application, so there is no installation required to use it. To use it, all you need is an Internet connection to set up your Chroma account, and then enjoy an easier, faster and more beautiful desktop experience. If you need assistance in setting up your Chroma account, send an email to support@chromamobile.com. If you're new to Chroma, be sure to check out the tutorial on our home page: Limitations: • You must be running Windows XP or Windows Vista to use Chroma. • If you access Chroma on a touchscreen device, you can run it in 50% transparency, and use the touchscreen interface with only the left hand. • Only the HP Compaq 6715b scanner is supported. If you have any questions, send an email to: support@chromamobile.com Chroma installation instructions: 1. Run the Chroma.exe program, and choose the language you prefer, by clicking the 'Show Language...' button, and then choosing the language of your preference. 2. Click the 'Check for Updates' button in the About dialog to update the software. 3. Click the 'Enjoy!' button to download the latest program update. 4. Open the EZ Grab™ Grabbers from Programs menu. 5. Click the New EZ Grab™ Grabber button and choose the printer that you prefer from the list. 6. Select the option you prefer from the Grabbed Files window: a. 'Install as an Active X Control' allows you to quickly install the Grabber to your desktop. b. 'Create Desktop Shortcut' attaches the Grabber to your desktop, and you can access it easily. c. 'Create Save File' saves the Grabber as a.EXE for later

What's New in the Chroma?

Chroma is a utility for installing and supporting Chromium (the new open source Chrome engine) extensions on Microsoft Windows. It's based on Chromium's Chrome Web Store and, as such, allows you to install all the extensions developed specifically for Google Chrome. Chroma installs the extensions on your computer and lets you manage them with the Magic Wand. There is no way to save or uninstall extensions from within Chroma. You don't need to have Chrome installed to use Chroma. It works with Microsoft Internet Explorer 9 and higher, which means that you can also install Chroma on PCs that don't support Chrome. This release is a semi-rolling release, meaning that new versions of Chroma are released only after new versions of Chromium. Install / Uninstall Chroma isn't installed as a standalone program. Instead, it's accessible from Chrome's Add-ons menu, either from the Extensions tab or by selecting Extensions > Install from other extensions. Clicking on this link takes you to a page where you can search for Chroma's alternative links (directly from Google or through reseller versions), or you can use the Magic Wand to install or uninstall extensions. Once an extension is installed, it's automatically started and accessible from the Extensions menu. Manage To access your extensions, simply type Chroma in the Start menu or search for it in the Start menu. From the Extensions menu, you can perform the following actions:  Access installed extensions and manage their permissions.  Remove an extension.  Remove or replace a theme.  Change the base theme.  View all installed extensions.  Add or remove any extension (allowing you to quickly switch to a theme that supports the extension in question). As an alternative, you can right-click on the extension's thumbnail to access the extension's options. You also have the option to remove all extensions from your Windows desktop.  Select an option.  Highlight an extension.  Click the Remove button to remove the selected extension.  Click the Uninstall button to remove all extensions.  Click the Back button to return to the Extensions page.  Click the Close button to return to the Options page.  Click the X button on the toolbar to exit the Options page.  Click the X button to exit
