I have a select field and 2 radio buttons like so: Male Female Male Female The value attribute is automatically

Jun 24, 2019. The venue is located in the heart of the Santa Monica beach, in a garden area between the art market and the surfing shops. Prayer was not in the air: aboriginal prayer song. . Q: How to pass custom layout to fragment? I'm new to android development, so I was following this tutorial: I added new

Fragment to the activity.xml file, but it doesn't show up (it's invisible) unless I added it in the layout.xml file. When I tried to add the view to the Fragment layout, it shows up but the view is not clickable, so I can't swipe/drag to another fragment. I don't know how to pass the view to the fragment, so it can be clickable. If I add the view in activity.xml, it works, but I need it to be in Fragment.xml. This is the activity.xml: 4bc0debe42
