FIFA® is more than a sport. It's a passion shared around the globe by people of all ages and skill levels. Together, we define FIFA as a game for the connected generation. Our focus is on fostering deep engagement between its players, delivering a richer experience on mobile devices and maximizing the fan experience on console. What is powered by Football? Every FIFA game contains gameplay innovations based on a core set of rules. Known as "Powered by Football," these gameplay systems allow us to constantly improve and evolve the game on both console and mobile. While many of the changes we make to FIFA may seem small, the cumulative effect makes a big difference. AI Enhanced Player Trajectory (AEPT) FIFA 20's new player trajectory system combines real-world data from the ball with the player's performance to ensure that the ball always performs in accordance with its real-world properties. Ball Control Ball Control is a fundamental new rule allowing players to move the ball with their foot, while also changing its direction with the touch of the ball. The Skill Transfer System (STS) This new skill transfer system allows every player to use their specific skills and use them on the ball wherever they want. The ability to move the ball with any body part gives players a powerful tool to express themselves in the game. Orbital Radar Orbital Radar is a brand new vision technology that gives players an overview of the entire pitch at any given time. From your perspective, you see a large image in the
