Players now react realistically to contact and react more independently, while players are now shown to perform each action with more consistency, making it easier for coaches to pick out the key areas of their player's play. Goalkeepers have been improved, with a more realistic stance and reactions to shots, while the timing of a player diving is now more consistent. The players' intelligence within the gameplay has been increased through minor adjustments to the player model physics, positioning and active actions to make the game even more complex. FIFA 21 Classic is a new bundle of content that will be available for a limited time at FIFAShop.com.
