wibu-codemeter:secrets:miniusb:newbonus:hasp dongle:link:torrent:Q: IBM Worklight: unable to refresh client side Worklight environment I am using my application packaged with eclipse (for iOS and android) and testing in the Worklight console in the same environment. There is one main menu, in it there is an item (a link) which directs me to a dialog that opens a new Worklight environment with a view. In order to be able to play with the application on the client side, I refresh the client side environment (via the link) and immediately get the following error message: Error: "unknown property 'wlServerPort'" This error is occurring on the port number in the environment.xml file in the.html files (for iOS and android). I have not found a way to know what is the value that should be in that location. Is there a way to refresh the client side environment? A: You need to go to your Worklight console, open your project and perform the following steps: 1- Go to Settings 2- Open the Plug-ins tab 3- Select the worklight-plugin.wlclient in "Installed Plug-ins" 4- Select "Revoke" 5- Press OK This will mark the worklight-plugin.wlclient as revoked 6- Go back to the worklight console 7- Find the worklight-plugin.wlclient in the list of plugins 8- Select the "Edit" button for that plugin 9- Go to XML 10- Save the project after the changes 11- Go back to the worklight console 12- Install the plugin Q: Image file path showing error in code I have this code in UITextView: NSString *path= [[NSBundle mainBundle] pathForResource:@"demoImage" ofType:@"jpg"]; UIImageView *fileImage = [[UIImageView alloc] initWithImage:[UIImage imageWithContentsOfFile:path]]; And I got an error: Warning: Attempt to present UIView: 0x3a23c60 on UIImageView: 0x2c1bf20 whose view is not in the window
