We have developed a new method of producing high yield and purity transgenics in the silkworm (Bombyx mori), an insect that will be an important model for better understanding plant and animal development. We are testing a method for making a transgene consisting of a plant polypeptide fused to an enhancer/promoter sequence derived from the silkworm metallothionein gene. The polypeptide is an anti-sense RNA to a silkworm gene related to the silkworm ecdysone receptor in the methoprene/trigonelline pathway. Heterologous transgenes will be produced and tested for their ability to compete with endogenous genes by transcriptional repression. Endogenous genes targeted for silencing will also be tested for their ability to regulate pathogen, insect or mammalian genes that can then be employed as transgenes to control host genes, a new class of insect genes that we have found controls immunity in the caterpillar. The principle goal of this phase of this project will be to produce transgenics that show a great degree of penetrance for these new insect genes. The 4 aims in the next period of the project are to: 1) confirm that the new method can produce reproducible and high yield transgenics for baculovirus resistance; 2) produce transgenics for a silkworm ecdysteroid signaling protein, 3) conduct experiments to test the potential of the new insect genes to regulate pathogen genes, and 4) produce transgenics for the high priority gene and two new novel ones to be confirmed. The last aim will test the feasibility of inverting the TALE approach, by placing the DNA under transcriptional regulation, to make a gene switch. Because of its large size and simplicity, the silkworm model is a cost-efficient system to test this approach of inverting transcription. This approach may be applicable to humans with problems in growing and maintaining a number of special cell types. in django in my project. I need to get the django secret key which is used in generating token. I tried a few ways, first of them was creating keys just before using JWT.

def generate_jwt_key(new_key):
    key_file = os.path.join(BASE_DIR, 'jwt.json') with open(key_file, "w") as f:
        f.write(new_key)
    print new_key
    print os.path.join(BASE_DIR, 'jwt.json') return str(new_key)

However in one of my client iam getting JWT key which is generated in database i think, so is there is any way to get the django default secret key to be used with JWT for this purpose

A: I was using django-jwt-extended libary. In that libary it is already mentioned `django.core.utils.get_secure_filename(settings.SECRET_KEY)` or `django.core.utils.get_secure_filename(os.environ.get('SECRET_KEY'))`

The varsity boys and girls cross country teams finished fourth at the New England Prep School Championships held at Maine's Sanford Farm on Saturday, Dec. 9. The girls team paced the entire field, finishing one spot behind MIT in fifth place, while the boys team was 10th. The women's team placed 18th in the New England prep's most prestigious meet. The only other team out of the state ranked higher was Berklee College of Music. Sophomore Liz Arsenault, who finished second in the 3,000 meters (11:57.47) during the regular season, placed fifth in the 7,000 at the New England prep meet.

Teammate and senior distance runner Stephanie Bickford crossed the line in 11th place at 13:29.97. Senior Kim Verrasztui finished 21st in the 5,000, while senior Lindsay Rigby finished 22nd in the 10,000. Advertisement Senior runner Courtney MacDougall was named the team's high school athlete of the year for her accomplishments during the season. Arsenault also earned first team honors, while senior equestrian Emma Zacher received all-academic accolades. There are quite a few teams in the region with a first round bye, but this is one of the more obvious ones: only three teams in the seven-team conference have a worse record than the Gators (8-2), and only three teams in the seven-team league have a better RPI than Florida. The only region where the Gators have a better RPI than Wichita State is the Big 12, and there's little difference between the RPI of Florida and that of the Big 12's worst team, Iowa State.
