What's new:

LTD et al. v Central Coast Hospital et al. ORDER I. Introduction On 18 May 2015, The Federal Court of Australia delivered judgment in the proceedings of the above-stated appeal - The Interest of the Damages of the High Court 1997 (125) IR 417 (Lincoln MC) [2012] AFIFC 67 [2014] - now styled The Two Big Fails - which deliver judgment on appeal to the High Court from the judgment of the Federal Court delivered on 26 January 2012 on a motion by the appellants for an order that the appeal be certified to the High Court. On 8 September 2014, the appellant in that proceedings, the appellants in appeal no. 23566 of 2013 - Geraldine Jones and Peter Beauchamp - lodged an appeal of the decision of the Federal Court to the High Court, which appeal was founded upon a notice of appeal by the appellees, i.e. the appellants' doctors and the Medical Defence Association of Australia Ltd. Graham, and Murray Mooney - to whom reference is frequently made as the Hospital, sought dismissal of that application, and the Court on 20 December 2014 granted that application in part. One of the question submitted by the appellants in that application was as follows: Q. Did the decision of the Federal Court in respect of questions of law delivered in the judgment dated 26 January 2012 amount to a declaration of law or is it ex-cathedra, i.e. binding in all circumstances as such? II. The Court's decision The Court answered that question in the following terms: That question is not answerable in these proceedings, the appellants having withdrawn that question before judgment in their Notice of Appeal to the High Court. It is a question to be addressed if the appeal is certified and arises in the High Court.[1] The Federal Court was in fact of the opinion that that question was answered in Osborn v Barratt [
