"The important thing to understand is that there are huge technical and gaming challenges involved in delivering this technology," explained Tom Savin, Executive Producer, FIFA. "We want to bring players closer to the game, but it also has to make sense in terms of creating the right experience. "While ultimately, the technology itself looks good, with our players in motion, the result is a wholly new way of viewing a game. It's a shift in focus towards the football and away from the players. The visibility of the players in the match has shifted in a significant way. The camera angles in the game have also changed to provide a stronger, more strategic view of the match." 2. Player Inspiration EA has worked closely with the players to get to this stage and together, they've been able to design and develop the quality of Player Inspiration (P.I.) faces that you'll see in FIFA 22. Player Intelligence Creating Player Intelligence in FIFA 22 is a journey-defining moment for EA SPORTS. With the assistance of the players and their coaches, the development team have been able to enhance the Player Intelligence of almost every player across the game, enabling a greater range of movement and gameplay options. The new Player Traits combine skill and intelligence of the players with smart AI that makes the players more reactive and, in turn, more fun to play. 4. The Journey of Play The Journey to this point has been painstakingly detailed and proven over three seasons of the FIFA Premier League. The development team worked closely with the team behind the scenes in the Premier League and UEFA Champions League to ensure that everything the players were doing was influenced by their actions in game and how their Player Traits were being calculated. As a result, there will be a more authentic connection between the football you're playing and the way you can use that to dictate the way you play. 5. Vision The team have done an incredible job with player vision, which is yet another player in-game feedback feature. EA has always been big on data, and AI has helped them gather that data. "What is really nice about this feature is how easy it is to use." Tom explained. "Players use a number
