One of the biggest and most famous motocross events in the world, the Daytona Six Hours ended in controversy and probably not a happy weekend for the Verizon team. Unfortunately, the lead changed multiple times between the Konter and the Honda of Andy Danter. In fact, a few times, it was a Konter in the lead! Matt Bisceglia was the only rider that stayed with the Honda rider to the end! We had a small group of riders represented in the top ten, but with just a handful of the top guys making it through the race, overall we can't be too happy with the results. Congratulations to Mike Webb on winning the Triple Crown of Motocross with his third Moto X title. George Easton and Chris Forsberg are still chasing their first win of the year. Doug got a bookshelf for his sister, and my parents got an antique rag rug for their bedroom. The place is great. I just remember reading a book there while I was in high school, and seeing the author in a play at the Seattle Rep a few years ago. It's a place that looks like a bookstore, but has books and chairs and tea and chocolate and everything else you can imagine. It's across the street from Pike Place Market, and it's always packed. The rug is a 2 1/2-inch-thick piece of antique black and white checked rug. My mom says that "they have none of these in small stuff anymore." It's hand-embroidered and fringed. My dad says it looks "great" and "real nice." By the way, I like it. Not just because my parents got it for me, but because it's actually a rare rug. The kind that you can spend a lot of money on, or find on Craigslist for $40 or $50. The kind that costs a lot of money. But it won't be mine.
