A unique choice-based RPG that feels like a computer game. Any of the six races will be easy to play for new players, but hardcore players will enjoy the depth and challenges. With all races, combat is critical. But with the Drow's ability to cast psychic spells, they can often ambush enemies and turn situations to their advantage. Combining characters from various races, and making plenty of mistakes along the way, will yield the most exciting adventures of your gaming career. Your characters will be born from the same rulebook as Savage Worlds, published by Pinnacle. However, you won't need a Savage Worlds license to play in Ozymandias. We are very confident in the compatibility between Ozymandias and Savage Worlds. Fusion Battle uses the VR headset to challenge you to a 2D arcade style physics battle. Your aim is simple, remove the gems that are in the enemy's body to win the battle. As you progress through the game you can unlock new powerful armours and powerful gems. At first glance Fusion Battle is a fun, quick and simple game that is high in content. However there is a lot of depth and detail that you can uncover as you play. Gemmons are great little monsters that appear in each dungeon. Being a 20 level dungeon there are over 200 monsters in the game. Having fun and engaging gameplay will be challenging if you like to have a real challenging game with a variety of monsters to defeat. Gems are special in this game and your armour will upgrade and evolve allowing you to collect various gems. The gems come in a variety of colours and sizes. When you match multiple gems of the same colour they will light up and the secondary colours will change. These gems come in many sizes and can be used to attack the different monsters. All of these gems are required to defeat the monster. The challenge is that you need to match the correct gems to defeat the monster. As a general rule the quicker the match the better. Gemmons have 5 types of attacks, they can do each attack for a short amount of time, before it recharges. Each attack has a different effect and can usually be blocked. If you run out of gems while fighting a monster you can use your inventory to equip more and attack again. While Gemmons can fight in different directions a monster can only move in one direction, there are turns at either end of the battle. The more time it takes you to battle with one monster the more gems that you will need to beat it. Match gem against gem to defeat each monster. Keyboard and Mouse Input: Keyboard input activates the movement and interaction between the gems on the screen. As you move your gems around the game will rotate and your enemy will move as well. You can press the keys Q, W, E, R, U, I, O, P, B, A, spacebar. You can also use modifier keys to activate the gems. As an example the Shift key can be used to remove a gem from the monster's body. Modifier keys can be used in combination with directional keys to navigate around the dungeon. Pressing the mouse scroll wheel will send gems to match gems on the screen. You can move the mouse c9d1549cdd
