Does anyone use LinkedIn? - kstrauser ===== brandnewlow We're transitioning from the other startup I work for to LinkedIn now. If you're wondering about the interest, LinkedIn is actively trying to build an online professional network around recruiting and job postings. They're trying to help business professionals build their personal brand online by creating a network of connections on LinkedIn. We've used their API to build a desktop app called vConnect to help people manage their resume with linkedin profiles. We've also built some other things. I'm the entrepreneur leading the effort and you should get in touch with me. We're not officially launching anything this week, but I'm speaking at Sugarcon and they'd love to have us as a subject if you're in town. ps. Please, stop asking me to discuss your personal brand on a public forum. ----- brandnewlow Here's one of the other things we do: I'm the founder and chief engineer at vConnect, and we've built a lot of stuff for LinkedIn. We're kind of trying to push the limits of what LinkedIn can do. We're building tools that help people manage their resume and LinkedIn profile and we're building things that help you create a professional online presence. We'd love feedback or ideas on any of these topics. The app is in early access right now and we have a few developers interested in working on it full-time. Email: brandnewlow@gmail.com ----- joshu Did you check whether your link was mobile friendly? ~~~ kstrauser Yep, I know it's wrong. I think it's a hack to make it work. I'll clean it up and replace it.
